INDEX TO VOL. LXXXII

The titles of articles are printed in italics

AGR

AGRICULTURE and the Minimum Wage, 596–608
Air Raids and the New War, 31–38
Air War, The, and the Bishops' Religion, 1065–1074
Alsace-Lorraine, The Return of, 504–539
America's conversion to a war policy, President Wilson's influence in, 1088–1100
Archbishops' Committee on Church and State, its Report criticised, 541–551
Armed Neutralities, Sea-Power and the, 149–168, 647–668
Army Medical Council and manipulative surgery, 754–770
Art-World, Plea for Readjustment in the, 360–367
Asia Minor, Mesopotamia, and British expedition in Palestine, 1276–1286
Austen (Jane), The Navy, the Army, and, 169–184
Austria, How to Break, 885–902
Austria-Hungary the tool of Pan-Germanism, 441–453
Austrian Emperor Francis Joseph, mistaken estimates of his character, 870–884, 1171–1179

BABIES and how to rear them, 117–135
Bacon and the real author of the Shakespearean plays, 1248–1264
Baghdad and Gaza—and After, 1276–1286
Balkan Unity and the 'New Departure,' 211–220
Barbusse (Henri), his journal of trench life, 803–817
Barker (J. Ellis), How Education has degraded the German Character, 552–570; What a Premature Peace would mean, 925–942

BUR

Barker (H. A.), Manipulative Surgery, 754–770
Barry (Canon William), The Return of Religion, 60–74; Break Austria, 441–453; How to break Austria, 885–902
Beatson (Major-Gen. F. C.), Mesopotamia and Military Policy of Government of India, 260–275
Belgian soldiers and the Yser front, 368–378
Belgium under von Bissing, 571–579
Bimetallism and silver currency after the War, 958–973
Bishops' Religion, The, and the Air War, 1065–1074
Bissing, Freiherr von: a Study in Character, 571–579
Blake (Sir Henry), Irish Settlement: A Southern Unionist's View, 26–30; The Education of a Nation, 1055–1059
Berlin, In, during Three Years of the War, 470–488
Bolo, Morel, and German peace propaganda, 1265–1275
Bonesetting and manipulative surgery, 754–770
Boyhood, Some Humours of, 624–632
'Break Austria,' 441–453
Brend (Major William A.), The Health of the Nation and the National Insurance Act, 195–210
British Empire Cabinet, 234–249, 489, 503
British Federalism: a Vanished Dream? 489–503
British interned in Switzerland, A Bishop's visit to, 368–378
British Trade, A Plea for, 633–646
Bulgaria, question of separate peace with, 211–220
Bury (Professor), his History of Freedom of Thought, 326–338

BUR

Bury (Bishop), Impressions of the Interned in Switzerland and of the Yser Front, 368–378
Buxton (Noel) on Balkan diplomacy, reply to, 211–220

CABINET and Convention, 283–300
Cammaerts (Emile), Freiherr von Bissing: a Study in Character, 571–579
Carlisle (Bishop of), The De-Nationalisation of the Church of England, 913–924
Catherine of Russia and maritime law, 149–168
Cenci, Death of the, in Rome: a Contemporary Manuscript, 1191–1204
Champneys (Sir Francis), The Fight against Venereal Infection, 1044–1054
Chassaigne (J. Coudurier de), The 'Pacifist' Peril, 1265–1275
Cheyne (Sir Watson) on manipulative surgery, reply to, 754–770
Child Life, The Saving of, 117–135
Christianity and the Church, 1180–1190
Christianity and Higher Occultism, 530–540
Christianity and History, 326–338
Church and State, The War's Influence on, 541–551
Church of England, The De-Nationalisation of the, 913–924
Church of England and modern Christianity, 1180–1190
Churchill (Lieut.-Col. Seton), The War's Influence on Church and State, 541–551
Colles (W. Morris), The Peril of Underground Germanism, 903–912
Commercial Competition after the War, 108–116, 633–646
Common Sense in War, 454–469
Conscientious objectors, psychological view of, 739–745
Constitution, Playing with the, 1139–1155
Constitutional revolution in the British Empire, 234–249
Contraband and rights of neutrals and belligerents in 1800, 647–668
Convention, The, or Else? 1216–1233
Convocation, Church, and Critics, 816–824
Convocation versus the Church and the Bible, 339–345; a reply, 816–824
Copenhagen system of education, 379–391
Cotes (Everard), Mesopotamia: Tragedy of an Impossible System, 276–282

ENG

Crimean War, Peace of Paris, and maritime law, 985–1006, 1287–1310
Crosse (Gordon) and the Shakespeare problem, 1248–1264

DARDANELLES Commission and scope of naval warfare, 454–469
Darwinism and return of Christianity, 60–74
Dawson (William Harbutt), A Plea for the Little People, 943–957
Declaration of Paris, Story of the, 985–1006, 1287–1310
Delmer (F. Sefton), In Berlin during Three Years of the War, 470–488
Democracy in Poland and struggle for independence, 859–869
Democracy no guarantee for peace, 221–233
Democracy, The Real Basis of, 301–325
Democratic fetish and Russian revolution, 782–795
De-Nationalisation of the Church of England, 913–924
Denmark, Education in, 379–391
Dewar (George A. B.), Reconstruction and Reaction, 418–423; Beginning of the German 'Peace Offensive,' 669–676
Dicey (Prof. A. V.), Is it wise to establish Home Rule before the End of the War? 1–25; Ireland as a Dominion, 700–726
Dimnet (Abbé Ernest), The Return of Alsace-Lorraine, 504–529
Donkin (Sir Bryan), The Fight against Venereal Infection, 580–595; reply to, 1044–1054
Dual Empire and its subject races, 885–902

ECONOMIC peace policy and resources of our Empire, 108–116, 835–858
Education, How it has degraded the German Character, 552–570
Education in Copenhagen, 379–390
Education of a Nation, 1055–1059
Emperor, The Lonely, 1171–1179
Empire Cabinet and Imperial Constitution, 234–249, 489–503
Empire Federal Parliament and Imperial War Conference, 1075–1087
Empire's Resources, Development of the, 835–858
England and Germany, Sketches in 1914, 84–107
England's future, political, social, and economic, 418–423
English Church, The, and the needs of the day, 1180–1190

EQU

Equality the basis of democracy, 301–325
Ewart (Dr. James Cossar), The Saving of Child Life, 117–135

FACE wounds and their repair, 746–753
Farm-labourers and minimum wage, 596–608
Federalism, British: a Vanished Dream? 489–503
Fiennes (Gerard), Conditions of a Naval Offensive, 250–259
Firestep, The Man on the, 803–817
Fisheries and their development, 1234–1247
Foerster (Prof.) on international reign of peace, 75–83
Forbes (Hon. Mrs. Walter), Sketches in England and Germany—1914, 84–107, 392–417
Francis Joseph (Emperor), mistaken estimates of his character, 870–884, 1171–1179
Free Trade and British commerce after the war, 633–646
Freedom of the Sea, The True, 1007–1021
French claims to Alsace and Lorraine, 504–529
French soldiers and life in the trenches, 803–817
Frewen (Moreton), Silver in the New Era, 958–973; The Ocean, the State, and the Fisherman, 1234–1247
Frodsham (Bishop), Future of the German Colonies, 727–738
Furor Teutonicus, 677–699

GERMAN Character, How Education has degraded the, 552–570
German Colonies, The Future of the, 727–738
German immorality and brutality not of modern growth, 677–699
German 'Peace Offensive,' The Beginning of the, 669–676
German peace propaganda, 903–912, 1265–1275
German People, At War with the, 221–233
German trade relations after the war, 108–116
German victory, what it would mean to the world, 925–942
German Warnings to Germany, 75–83
Germany, England and, Sketches in—1914, 84–107, 392–417
God and the War, A symposium concerning, 771–781
Governments, democratic, and others, 301–325

IRI

Green (F. E.), Agriculture and the Minimum Wage, 596–608
Greenwood (Sir George) and the Shakespeare problem, 1248–1264
Grey (Rowland) see Rowland-Brown (Lilian)
Gribble (Francis), Passing of a Legend, 870–884
Gwynn (Capt. Stephen), The Man on the Firestep, 803–817

HANSEATIC League and Spanish Armada, 221–233
Harrison (Frederic), A Very Invisible God, 771–781
Health of the Nation and the National Insurance Act, 195–210
Henry (O.), magazine stories of, 825–834
Herbert (Arthur S.), The Convention, or Else? 1216–1233
History, Christianity and, 326–338
Hohenlohe (Prince Alexander) on international reign of peace, 75–83
Holmes (Edmond), The Real Basis of Democracy, 301–325
Home Rule, Is it wise to establish it before the end of the War? 1–25; Southern Unionist's View, 26–30
Hunt (W. R. Stather), A Psychologist's View of the Objector and his 'Conscience,' 739–745

IMPERIAL Conference, Where it has left us, 1075–1087
Imperial Migration, Post-War Settlement of Soldiers, 1156–1170
Imperial War Cabinet, Council, and Constitution, 234–249, 489–503, 1139–1155
Indian Government and Mesopotamia, 260–282
Industrial Organisation and Empire, 108–116
Industrial changes effected by the war, 39–59
Infantile mortality and impure milk, 117–135
Insurance Act, what it has done for the health of the people, 195–210
International Law and freedom of the seas, 1007–1021
Internment camps in Switzerland, 368–378
Invisible King, The, Mr. H. G. Wells's views concerning God, 771–781
Ireland as a 'Dominion,' 700–726
Irish Convention, Ulstermen, Southern Unionists, and Sinn Feiners, 26–30, 283–300, 1216–1233
Irish Settlement, An, 1–30

ITA

Italian expansion a counterpoise to a Germanised Middle-Europe, 885–902
Italy, The Invasion of, and the Classic Strategy of Prussia, 1124–1138

KERENSKY, Lenin, and the real Russian people, 1101–1110
Kitchener (Lord), his reforms in the Indian Army, 260–275

LATHBURY (D. C.), Cabinet and Convention, 283–300; Playing with the Constitution, 1139–1155
Letter to a Dead Author, 825–834
Lilly (W. S.), Christianity and History, 326–338; The Newest Fetish, 782–795
Lindsay (Prof. James A.), Religion under Repair, 796–802; reply to, 974–984
Lonely Emperor, The, 1171–1179
Low (Sidney), The Imperial Constitution, 234–249; Invasion of Italy and Classic Strategy of Prussia, 1124–1138
Lyttelton (Rev. Hon. Edward), Some Humours of Boyhood, 624–632

MACDONELL (Sir John), The True Freedom of the Sea, 1007–1021
Machray (Robert), President Wilson's Greatest Achievement, 1088–1100
Mellwraith (Sir Malcolm), Furor Teutonicus, 677–699
Makgill (Sir George), Industrial Organisation and Empire, 108–116
Mallet (Sir Charles), A Plea for British Trade, 633–646
Manipulative Surgery, 754–770
Maritime law and freedom of the seas, 985–1006, 1007–1021, 1287–1310
Marriott (J. A. R.), The Power of the Purse, 346–359; British Federalism, a Vanished Dream? 489–503
Mason (Miss M. H.), Public Morality, 185–194
Medical Benefits under Insurance Act, 195–210
Men with the New Faces, The, 746–753
Mesopotamia: Military Policy of the Government of India, 260–275; Tragedy of an Impossible System, 276–282
Military despotism and democratic control, 424–440
Milk and infant mortality, 117–135
Morel (E. D.), Boloism, and German eace propaganda, 1265–1275
Muir (Corporal Ward), The Men with the New Faces, 746–753

PLA

NATIONAL Art Collections, and annual conferences of art-lovers, 360–367
National Churches and clerical monopolies, 913–924
National expenditure, Parliamentary control of, 346–359
National Insurance Act, The Health of the Nation and the, 195–210
Nationalists, Sinn Feiners, Unionists, and Irish Convention, 1–30
Native rights and Free Trade in Tropical Colonies and Protectorates, 835–858
Naval Offensive, Conditions of a, 250–259
Navy, The, the Army, and Jane Austen, 169–184
Nicholas the Second, the Romanoffs, and German Czarinas, 1111–1123
Newbolt (Frank), A Letter to a Dead Author, 825–834
Newest Fetish, The, 782–795

OBJECTOR and his 'Conscience,' a Psychologist's View of the, 739–745
Ocean, The, the State, and the Fisherman, 1234–1247

'PACIFIST' Peril, The, 1265–1275
Paget (Lady), The Lonely Emperor, 1171–1179
Pan-Germanism and Austrian subserviency, 441–453
Paris, Story of the Declaration of, 985–1006, 1287–1310
Parliamentary control of national expenditure, 346–359
Parsons (Mrs. Clement), Mrs. Siddons as a Portrait Sitter, 609–623
Passing of a Legend, 870–884
Peace, International, Some German dreams of, 75–83
Peace plots of Germany and how to meet them, 669–676, 903–912
'Peace without Annexations or Indemnities,' 1022–1043
Petrograd in June and Peace propaganda, 1022–1043
Petrograd and the Real Russia, 136–148
Picton-Turbervill (Edith), Christianity and the Church, 1180–1190
Piggott (Sir Francis), Sea-Power and the Armed Neutralities, 149–168, 647–668; The Story of the Declaration of Paris, 985–1006, 1287–1310
Playing with the Constitution, 1139–1155

PLE

Plea for the Little People, 943–957
Polish Political Parties and the War, 859–869
Pollock (John), 'Peace without Annexations or Indemnities,' 1022–1043
Post-War Settlement of Soldiers and Imperial Migration, 1156–1170
Premature Peace, What it would mean, 925–942
Press correspondents and Censors in War-time, 1205–1215
Preventive medicine and treatment of venereal diseases, 580–595, 1014–1054
Prisoners' life at Ruhleben and in Switzerland, 368–378, 470–488
Prussian hegemony in Central Europe, and how it was obtained, 925–942
Prussianism, its degrading influence in education, 552–570
Prussian strategy and the invasion of Italy, 1124–1138
Psalms, Imprecatory, Air-raids, and Convocation, 339–345, 818–824
Public Morality, 185–194
Purse, The Power of the, 346–359

RAIDS, counter-raids, and reprisals, 31–38, 1065–1074
Reconstruction and Reaction, 418–423
Religion, The Return of, 60–74
Religion under Repair, 530–540, 796–802
Reprisals for air raids, clerical pacifists, and 'Imprecatory Psalms,' 1065–1074
Revolution, The Coming, 39–59
Roberts (A. Carson), War Control after Three Years' Experience, 424–440
Robinson (H. Perry), A War Correspondent on his Work, 1205–1215
Roman tragic story in Pontificate of Clement VIII., 1191–1204
Romney, Reynolds, and Mrs. Siddons, 609–623
Rowland-Brown (Lilian), The Navy, the Army, and Jane Austen, 169–184
Ruhleben, Australian's experiences in, 470–488
Russian Realities, Some, 1101–1110
Russian Revolution, After the 'Great Days' of the, 136–148
Russian revolution, Story of the, 1022–1043
Russo-German Relations and Sabouroff Memoirs, 1111–1123

SABOUROFF Memoirs, Russo-German Relations and, 1111–1123
Sailors and soldiers in Jane Austen's novels, 169–184

TRE

Salmon fisheries of Canada and the United States, 1234–1247
Saunders (George), German Warnings to Germany, 75–83
Schoolboys' 'howlers,' 624–632
Sea-power and submarines, 250–259
Sea-Power and the Armed Neutralities, 149–168, 647–668
Sellers (Edith), Education in Copenhagen: a Common-sense System, 379–391
Shadwell (Dr. Arthur), The Coming Revolution, 39–59
Shakspere, Bacon, and a 'Tertium Quid,' 1248–1264
Shakesperean Theatre, Beerbohm Tree and the, 1060–1064
Shelley's tragedy on the Cenci and a contemporary account of their fate, 1191–1204
Siam, King Rama and his people's progress, 1055–1059
Siddons (Mrs.) as a Portrait Sitter, 609–623
Silver in the New Era, 958–937
Simeon (Stephen), Death of the Cenci in Rome: a Contemporary Manuscript, 1191–1204
Simpson (H. B.), Shakspere, Bacon, and a 'Tertium Quid,' 1248–1264
Simpson (Prof. J. Y.), After the 'Great Days' of the Russian Revolution, 136–148; Russo-German Relations and Sabouroff Memoirs, 1111–1123
Sinn Feiners and Irish Convention, 1–30
Sinnett (A. P.), Religion under Repair, 530–540; a rejoinder, 796–802
Sketches in England and Germany—1914, 84–107, 394–417
Small tradesmen and reinstatement of soldiers in civil life, 943–957
Soldiers after the War, their rehabilitation in civil life, 943–957, 1156–1170
Soldiers' temptations, 185–194
Stage, The, Sir Herbert Tree, and Shakespeare, 1060–1064
State fisheries and the undeveloped wealth of the ocean, 1234–1247
Stone (Brig.-Gen. F. G.), At War with the German People, 221–233
Strategy of Prussia and the Italian campaign, 1124–1138
Switzerland, Impressions of the Interned in, 368–378

THEOLOGY in war-time, 771–781
Theosophy and super-physical mysteries, 974–984
Tree (Beerbohm) and the Shakesperean Theatre, 1060–1064

ULS

ULSTERMEN, Southern Unionists, Sinn Feiners, and Irish Convention, 26–30
Underground Germanism, The Peril of, 903–912
Urquhart (Leslie), Some Russian Realities, 1101–1110
Ussher (R. A.), Polish Political Parties and the War, 859–869

VENEREAL Infection, The Fight against, 580–595, 1044–1054
Very Invisible God, A, 771–781

WADE (Hon. C. G.) Post-War Settlement of Soldiers and Imperial Migration, 1156–1170
Wage, Minimum, Agriculture and the, 596–608
Wallbrook (H. M.), Beerbohm Tree and Shakesperean Theatre, 1060–1064
War as seen by the men in the trenches, 803–817
War Cabinet and Imperial Constitution, 234–249, 489–503
War, Common Sense in, 454–469
War Control: Three Years' Experience, 424–440
War Correspondent, A, on his Work, 1205–1215
War, How America came into the, 1088–1100
War's Influence on Church and State, 541–551
War-time in Berlin, Three Years of, 470–488

YAT

War-time sketches in English and German society, 84–107, 392–417
Welch (Canon), Convocation, Church, and Critics, 818–824; a rejoinder to, 1065–1074
Wells (H. G.) and the Invisible King, 771–781
Whyte (A. F.), Balkan Unity and the 'New Departure': a Reply to Mr. Noel Buxton, 211–220
Wilkinson (Spenser), Common Sense in War, 454–469
Wilson's (President) Greatest Achievement, 1088–1100
Wilson-Fox (Henry), The Development of the Empire's Resources, 835–858
Witt (Robert C.), Readjustment in the Art-World, 360–367
Women, soldiers, and public morality, 185–194
Women's position in the Church of England, 1180–1190
Wood (Francis Derwent), his skill in remodelling wounded faces, 746–753
Working classes, their prospects after the War, 39–59
Worsfold (W. Basil), Where the Imperial Conference has left us, 1075–1087
Wyatt (Harold F.), Air Raids and the New War, 31–38; Convocation versus the Church and the Bible, 339–345; a reply, 818–824; The Air War and the Bishops' Religion, 1065–1074

YATE (Lieut.-Col. A. C.), Baghdad and Gaza—and After, 1276–1286
Yser Front, Impressions of the, 368–378

PRINTED BY
SPOTTISWOODE, BALLANTYNE & CO. LTD.
LONDON, COLCHESTER AND ETON, ENGLAND